

Here are two questions that have been asked and answered:

- Have any deadlines been postponed for sales tax payments? The short answer is no. February sales tax payment is still due to the Comptroller by March 20. Here is a statement from the Comptroller on the subject: <http://comptroller.texas.gov/about/media-center/news/2020/200317-sales-tax-virus.php>
- Has the deadline to file business personal property (BPP) renditions with the Appraisal District been postponed? The Governor has not issued any orders that suspend or postpone any property tax deadlines. The Appraisal District has issued the attached press release concerning property valuation in general. Here is a link to the Williamson Central Appraisal District's website video information on BPP renditions: <https://www.wcad.org/business-personal-property-rendition-video/>
